DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114 was filed in this application after a decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, but before the filing of a Notice of Appeal to the Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or the commencement of a civil action. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114 and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the appeal has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114 and prosecution in this application has been reopened pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on June 22, 2009, has been entered. Claims 1-34 and 36-44 are pending.

Response to Amendment

2. In view of the §112 issues raised by applicants' amendments as discussed below, the rejections under §103(a) are withdrawn. See In re Steele, 305 F.2d 859, 134 USPQ 292 (CCPA 1962) (a rejection under 35 U.S.C. §103 should not be based on considerable speculation about the meaning of terms employed in a claim or assumptions that must be made as to the scope of the claims).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

4. Claims 1-34 and 36-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

Applicants have amended independent claims 1, 14, 24, and 34 to recite separate steps of: analyzing the one or more potential locations; determining one or more specific locations at which power-down instructions can be inserted; and optimizing the power consumption during execution. However, the claims previously recited, and still recite, separate steps of selecting locations to insert the power-down instructions based on reducing power consumption and satisfying constraints. The original disclosure does not appear to distinguish the acts of analyzing/determining locations to insert power-down instructions from the acts of identifying/selecting locations to insert power-down instructions such that these acts may be claimed as independent steps within the same process. Likewise, the specification does not appear to describe the reducing of power consumption while satisfying constraints as being distinguishable from the act of optimizing power consumption to support these as separable concepts within a single method.

5. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

6. Claims 1-34 and 36-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As noted above, the original disclosure does not appear to distinguish the acts of analyzing/determining locations to insert power-down instructions from the acts of identifying/selecting locations to insert power-down instructions such that these acts may be claimed as independent steps within the same process. Likewise, the specification does not appear to describe the reducing of power consumption while satisfying constraints as being distinguishable from the act of optimizing power consumption to support these as separable concepts within a single method. Because these additional claim features appear to be redundant expressions of steps already in the claims, it is unclear whether or not they are intended to represent additional independent acts or somehow further refine to previously recited acts in any meaningful way. This ambiguity in the number and nature of the independent steps in the prescribed methods renders the claims indefinite.

Additionally, the term "without significantly increasing execution time" in claims 1, 14, 24, and 34 is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term "significantly" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention.
